

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A property futures exchange wherein indices are created based on the selling prices of property sold, in respective areas, for a given time period. Futures contracts which are based on the indices are then traded in real time preferably on the Internet. The selling prices are preferably derived from official fiscal records.